

Licensed Cadastral Surveyor/Technician

Looking for interesting survey work and the chance for active client development and project management?

Enjoy lots of sunshine, outdoor activities, and great work/life balance?

Then this is the job for you! Jones and Stanger Surveyors are looking for a surveyor to help with a sustained growth period. We are an expanding Nelson surveying firm working in:

- Subdivision and Land Development Engineering design
- Cadastral Surveying
- Project Management

This a great role and will provide you with a variety of survey work including subdivision and detailed engineering design as well as involvement in planning and full project management.

In return, you will be given real independence to manage your own projects, share in the satisfaction of growing a successful company, a family-friendly environment, and a competitive salary.

So if you are a Licensed Cadastral Surveyor or Survey Technician with:

- 2+ years' experience
- Ability to work with minimal supervision and desire to manage own projects
- Client relationship skills
- 12D survey and design software experience an advantage

Then we want to hear from you now!

To apply, please email admin@jasl.nz with your CV and cover letter.
