

CADASTRAL SURVEYOR - CHRISTCHURCH

Inovo Projects is not your traditional multi-disciplined company. Our team of 45 provides innovative specialist services in the disciplines of project management, project planning, resource management planning, engineering and surveying from offices in Auckland and Christchurch. Inovo is currently involved with some of the largest development projects in New Zealand, in a variety of fields including irrigation, tourism, commercial, residential and infrastructure, for corporate, government and private clients.

Following growth in our client base, an exciting opportunity exists for an intermediate to senior Surveyor to join our Christchurch-based team. This role involves cadastral surveying, multi-lot developments, topographical surveying, project management and engineering design and construction.

Our ideal candidate will have;

- An experienced New Zealand Licensed Cadastral Surveyor, Graduate or Technician
- Competent with Landonline and 12D software
- An excellent written and oral communicator
- Able to work independently and organise work programs
- Proficient with field work techniques for GPS and Total Station
- Comfortable with the RMA and planning processes
- Experienced with engineering design and contract management

Inovo offers an attractive remuneration package, career development potential, a diverse range of projects and a progressive work culture. Please email your CV, including cover letter, in confidence to Peter McAuley at peter@inovo.nz.
