

Licensed Cadastral Surveyor, Survey Technician or Graduate Surveyor

Have you been looking for a professional position where you can make a significant contribution and become a core member of a great surveying team?

Have you been looking for a position in which you'll produce stunning results for the people you come into contact with? Are you interested in growing and expanding your knowledge. We're Harrison & O'Sullivan, based in Whanganui and we're looking for either a Graduate Surveyor, Qualified Survey Technician or Licensed Cadastral Surveyor who wants to reach their full potential.

We are a long-established company, offering a range of surveying, planning and land development services both in the urban and rural environment. We enjoy a significant role in shaping the future of our expanding city and pride ourselves in providing a professional and personable service to an increasing range of clients.

We have a growing list of varied projects and are looking for someone with initiative and drive to join our team.

The role will comprise the following tasks.

- The preparation of resource consent applications from initial site survey, scheme plan preparation and AEE preparation in conjunction with our Registered Planner.
- Undertake & manage Land Transfer Surveys and Redefinition surveys in a timely and efficient manner, with a good working knowledge of the Cadastral Survey Rules.
- Be responsible for the preparation and QA checks of e-survey datasets.
- Topographical and engineering surveys using modern equipment and technology.
- Engineering design and construction observation.
- Project management including liaison with clients, allied professionals, and local authority staff.

You will have the following attributes:

- At least 2 years NZ experience with appropriate qualifications.
- Good working knowledge of 12d software and Landonline.
- Good communication skills and a willingness to make a positive contribution to a team environment.
- A good attention to detail with the ability to produce accurate work in a timely manner.
- An ability for critical thinking.

You would describe yourself as being reliable, enthusiastic, optimistic and friendly, yet also confident, determined and decisive.

At Harrison & O'Sullivan you will:

Experience a great work/lifestyle balance with flexibility to experience what the Whanganui region has to offer.

Be part of a supportive and caring team.

Receive competitive remuneration and professional development opportunities.
