

Senior/Principal Land Surveyor

- Step up into a team or delivery leadership role
- Great team & work environment
- Move to the Manawatu & have more time to do what you love outside of work

Are you looking to experience greater career challenge and a more enjoyable work environment? This position could be right for you.

Geoworks is a growing consultancy with offices in Feilding and Levin delivering surveying, planning and engineering services in the Manawatu and Horowhenua, Kapiti regions. Our business is based on the simple principles of staff integrity, engaging innovation and expertise, and partnering with clients on their land project. We take pride in every aspect of our service delivery and business operation. We also really enjoy our jobs, and that comes down to an awesome team culture and work environment.

Geoworks is expanding and looking to recruit a Senior or Principal level Land Surveyor. This is a key position and excellent opportunity to advance your career within a highly regarded company. Note there is flexibility to structure a position to your strengths and interests.

The Challenge:

- Take a lead role in service and project delivery, which may include investigations & feasibility studies; topographical, cadastral & engineering surveying; consenting; subdivision engineering; & construction supervision.
- If you have an interest in people leadership, there is scope to develop your skills in this area in a mentorship, delivery lead or team lead capacity.
- Develop and manage client relationships with open, regular communication and excellent service delivery.
- Work closely with colleagues, clients, approving authorities, contractors & subconsultants to deliver a seamless integrated service and successful project outcomes. This includes taking a well-planned approach and problem-solving/finding solutions.

Your Skills:

- Hold a Bachelor of Surveying qualification and have 5+ years' related experience.
- Cadastral survey experience and licensing will be highly regarded.
- Strong communication skills and enjoy building relationships.
- Skills and an interest to lead, mentor, develop staff will be highly regarded.

In addition to a great team and work environment, you'll enjoy the benefits of a more rural and relaxed lifestyle with high quality and affordable houses, and first class schools.
