About Fox and Associates

Fox and Associates is a consultancy based in the South Island with offices in Christchurch and Ashburton.

Like many companies we started out as a family run business, we have proudly kept to our roots and hold strong to our core values providing a welcoming and engaging work environment.

Our team members and clients stay with us for a long time because the personal touch goes a long way to making people feel valued and encouraging their success.

Our Expertise

Fox and Associates has a reputation for being leaders and innovators in the profession, particularly for applications of technology, expertise, and having a deep knowledge in the fields we practice in. Fox and Associates has won several company awards and individual team members have won awards for their expertise and contributions to the survey profession.

What does the role look like?

Fox and Associates is looking for a Licensed Cadastral Surveyor to join our survey team and get involved in challenging cadastral definition projects both in rural and urban environments.

The role includes:

- Supervise or undertake cadastral surveying including office calculations, field work, compilation of data sets, quality assurance checks and then also lodging the data sets.
- Managing land development projects including preparation of subdivision and resource consents, subdivision clearances and liaising with external parties.
- Provide support and supervision to our team of graduates and survey technicians.
- Act in a mentoring role to support the mentoring programme throughout Fox and Associates.
- For the right person - opportunity to develop and lead our Ashburton branch

What you need to bring?

Ideally the applicant is recently licensed though this does not exclude more experienced applicants if they were the right fit. To be successful in this role we are looking for:

- A motivated person who develops strong professional relationships with teammates and customers.
- Excited by the challenge of delivering results on some unique and complex projects.
- A collaborative person who thrives in a strong team environment.
- Lifelong learner who enjoys gaining and sharing knowledge.
- Creative thinker who is relentless about pursuing and finding a better way.
- Organised, meticulous, and able to proactively supervise definition calculations, field work and dataset preparation tasks.
- Possess good communication skills for interacting with clients, Council officers and other staff.
- Good mentoring skills to assist with training and support less experienced teammates.

Fox and Associates provides an attractive employment package with a range of employee benefits including competitive salary, health insurance, flexible work arrangement, the right work resources you need, support and development, and a work environment where you can make a difference and be heard.

If this sounds like you, we would love to hear from you. Apply to Carl Fox (carl@foxsurvey.co.nz), forwarding a Covering Letter, CV, and any supporting information you feel might be relevant.
