

GeoSync

Land Surveying & Spatial Solutions

An opportunity like no other

Are you a land surveyor who is stuck working long hours with little joy?

Are you looking for a better work/family/play balance in your life?

We are interested in talking to you!

What we are looking for

A surveyor who is experienced in the Cadastral Survey System – you could be an experienced technician or recently registered.

A person who is interested in potential owner operation – owning your own business one day

GeoSync is a small Taranaki practice operating since 2005 with 3-4 staff. We have a very flexible and dynamic team with no set work hours just a commitment to getting the jobs done. You can work from home or the office and choose your hours. Time off for family or self is never a problem – long holidays are encouraged – music is played and laughter is a must in the office environment – we encourage participation in any sporting activity (GeoSync Indoor Netball and Pool/Darts Nights are options available). We set realistic time frames with all our clients so we don't find ourselves under the pump. The culture of GeoSync is simply the best. The small team supports each other with blurred boundaries between the obvious roles. (ie the planner can do CAD draughting – and the surveyor can write a planning application)
