NZ SPATIAL EXCELLENCE AWARDS - ENTRIES OPEN TILL 22 JULY

Entries are now being accepted for this year's awards. The awards are open to all New Zealand professionals and organisations who have used geospatial tools and data to benefit their work.

---

In 2018, six of our members: Kat Salm, Elaine McAlister, Claire Buxton, Geoff O'Malley, Dr Robert Odolinski and Julian Thom won awards at the NZSEA dinner. Elaine and Kat had the additional honour of going on to win the SSSI Professional of the Year and SSSI Women's Leadership awards respectively. These were announced at the 2019 Asia-Pacific Spatial Excellence Awards (APSEA) in Melbourne.

Are you considering entering? The NZ Spatial Excellence Awards provide a great opportunity to discuss your work with your clients - perhaps they'd like to enter or be associated with this prestigious event through sponsorship. If you are interested contact Mark Dyer, CEO: mark@sureyspatialnz.org.

JULY CASE NOTES

This month we report on five court decisions covering diverse situations associated with subdivision, development and land use activities from around the country;

- The final EC decision on an appeal against the consent granted by Dunedin City Council to a subdivision at Papanui Inlet on Otago Peninsula;
- An unsuccessful application by an applicant for costs relating to an appeal against a decision of Queenstown Lakes District Council to grant partial consent to a subdivision near Hawea Flat;
- An appeal seeking judicial review of a decision of the Independent Hearings Panel for the Auckland Unitary Plan on several submissions and the failure to provide adequate reasons for the decisions on zoning and rules for an area of land at Takapuna;
- An appeal relating to a proposed new access road to a property near Lake Hayes;
- The EC consideration of a procedural challenge to the status of a court issued minute that was critical of Canterbury Regional Council's process on an appeal about the proposed filling of a former quarry pit.

South East Asian Surveying Congress - Exclusive Discount for Survey and Spatial NZ members

An exclusive discount is being offered to S+SNZ members to attend the South East Asian Surveying Congress to be held in August in Darwin this year. Members can save up to $660 with our exclusive discount just for S+S NZ members.

Note the discount ends midnight Sunday 7 July 2019. To register, click here. Use promo code NZSPA to access this discount.

If you haven't attended a Congress before, they are a great way to keep up with trends and developments on the international stage. For those who went to the 2016 FIG Working Week in Christchurch, co-hosted by S+SNZ, they enjoyed over 80 technical presentations along with nearly 800 other delegates.
