

Volunteering Toolkit Workshop

8th September in Dunedin

Low Investment High Return

“...I learnt good problem solving and project management skills in a foreign environment where resources were limited, and communication could be difficult!” - Jordan Friis S+S Article about Nepal VCSP

What is it?

We have created a full on day which will give your employee the real technical and professional skills required to volunteer and work in aid. This is for all ages and experience levels, not just Young Professionals.

How will it benefit your business?

Your employee will come back more engaged and enthusiastic to improve than ever before. If you tap into their passion to give back with their skills, they will find ways to improve those skills through their day jobs.

Your company can open up your capabilities an ‘aid’ offering. During this workshop, your employee will get the opportunity to learn how MFAT works and how to make a business out of aid work.

Recruitment will become easier the more you invest in social enterprises like this one. The newest generation coming through our ranks (Gen Z) are the most socially conscious of us all. If you display that you support your employees’ purpose, Gen Z’s will be more likely to want to work for you. Plus, having your employee there is easy advertising of your company!

What will it cost?

$50 (+ gst) for Survey and Spatial NZ members

Travel - find flights here:

www.google.com/flights

No lost time - This event is on a Saturday.

You won’t miss your employees during the week.

MORE INFO ON THE EVENT WEBSITE HERE:

https://www.surveyors.org.nz/news_and_events/tickets_and_events/volunteering_toolkit